3. In our last Annual Report we pointed out that the number of persons in receipt of relief, which had been increasing from the year 1877 to the year 1881, began to decline in 1882, and that there was a continued improvement in that respect in the year ended February, 1883.

We have now to report that the returns for the year ended February, 1884, show a decrease of 1,333 in the average daily number of persons relieved in the workhouses as compared with the number so relieved in the preceding year, but there was an increase of 1,549 in the average daily number of persons who received out-door relief during that period; the tables given above show that the average daily number in the workhouses during the past year was 49,236 and on out-door relief 60,384, making a total of 109,620, which exceeded the average daily number relieved in and out of the workhouses in the previous year by only 216.

4. During the spring and early summer of 1883 there was exceptional poverty in certain localities owing to a deficient potato crop, but the representations as to distress were in many instances exaggerated, and we adhered throughout the year to the opinion that the destitution might be met by the operation of the Poor Law in the ordinary manner, viz., by the admission of the able-bodied classes to the workhouse, and by affording out-door relief to the aged and infirm and others to whom it may at all times be given under the "Irish Poor Relief Extension Act." The result was what we anticipated, and although the number of persons relieved during the spring and summer months exceeded the number relieved during the corresponding months of the preceding year, all who were really destitute had the means of obtaining the needful aid and support, and it was only necessary in the case of one Union (Wexford) to authorize out-door relief to the able-bodied classes under Section 2 of the Act above mentioned. This order was made as part of the Wexford Workhouse was full, but very little relief was given under the order, and it only remained in force for one month. In only two other cases have the Boards of Guardians applied to us for authority to give out-door relief to the able-bodied classes, but we were not legally empowered to grant it, the workhouses not being full or unfit for the reception of poor persons by reason of fever or infectious disease.

5. The following is a statement of the number of persons in Workhouses and on out-door relief in the last week of each month during the year ended 2nd February, 1884, and in the corresponding weeks of the preceding year (ended 3rd February, 1883); and your Excellency will observe that, although the number of persons relieved both in and out of the Workhouses in the early part of the year 1883, exceeded considerably the number so relieved in the corresponding months of the previous year, there was in the latter part of the year 1883, and commencement of 1884, a diminution as compared with the preceding winter, the number relieved in the last week of January, 1884, having been less than in the same week of the year 1883, by 4,249 in Workhouses, and 3,615 on out-door relief, the total decrease at that time having been 7,864.

6. In five Unions, situated in the Counties Mayo and Galway, the rates which could be levied were not sufficient to meet the expenditure thrown upon them, and grants were made under the "Relief of Distressed Unions Act, 1883," to the amount of £10,362 15s. 0d. In some few instances Boards of Guardians were authorized to obtain temporary advances from the Union Treasurer to meet pressing claims on their resources, but all these advances will be repaid by the collection of the rates during the spring and summer of the present year.*

The number suffering from fever or other contagious disease was less by 1,300 than in the previous year, and the total number of persons relieved in workhouses was less by 28,474.

The total number of deaths in the workhouses in the fifty-two weeks comprised in the Table has been 12,405. In the corresponding Table in the last Annual Report the total number of deaths was 11,272; so that there has been an increase of 1,133 deaths, as compared with the number in the previous year.

Deaths by fever were 594, as against 588; by lung disease, 2,213, as against 2,027; and deaths by small-pox 11, as against 76 in the previous year.

ORPHANS AND DESERTED CHILDREN.

12. The number of orphans and deserted children out at nurse from the Workhouses in Ireland, under the provisions of the Act 39 and 40 Vic., c. 38, on the 2nd February last was 2,453, being an increase of 55 over the number on the corresponding date in the preceding year.

SEED SUPPLY.

13. With respect to the repayment of loans under the Seed Supply Act, it was mentioned in our last Report that the payments during the previous year had been fairly satisfactory, and we are glad to be able to speak favourably of the progress of the subsequent collection for the repayment of that debt.

The amount advanced to Boards of Guardians in the year 1880 under the Seed Supply Act, after crediting the Unions with the sums refunded, was £598,306 10s. 9d., and of this £419,823 8s. 9d. was paid up to the 31st March last, leaving only £178,483 2s. due on that date. The last instalment of this debt will not be due till the month of August, 1885.

EMIGRATION.

14. Our proceedings under the Emigration clauses of the Arrears of Rent (Ireland) Act were referred to in our last Report, so far as they had been carried out to the month of March, 1883, and the following table (p. 13), furnished to us by the Emigration Committee,* shows that the total number of State-aided emigrants up to the month of August last was 16,976, and that the amount of the grant issued in respect of these persons was £82,172 8s.

For the purpose of selecting the emigrants this year, and making the other necessary arrangements, the following gentlemen were appointed members of the Emigration Committee:—Mr. John Ross-of-Bladensburg, Major Gaskell, Captain Rutledge-Fair, Captain Sampson, and Sir Robert Jackson; and your Excellency approved of revised rules for carrying out the measure which will be found in the Appendix.* These rules do not differ in essential particulars from those which were in force last year, but they prescribe that the increased grant of £8 per head authorized by the Tramways Act may be allowed in any case in which the emigrant is about to proceed to the Australasian or South African colonies, or to any part of Canada west of the province of Ontario, or to the parts of the United States west of the States of Ohio, Virginia, and West Virginia.

The objections to emigration which were raised in parts of Ireland towards the end of last year rendered it doubtful whether Boards of Guardians would be willing to take further proceedings in the matter, and whether persons who had been desirous to emigrate would be deterred from so doing, but inquiry has shown that there is a desire generally amongst the Boards of Guardians of the poorer Unions to participate in the grant, and that those who wished to emigrate have not been influenced to alter their views in that respect.

We communicated, either by letter or through our Inspectors, with the Boards of Guardians of eleven Unions on this subject, and ten of them expressed their wish to participate in the additional grant.† The Guardians of nine other Unions, without any communication from us, applied to be allowed to take advantage of the measure, and the following is a list of the Unions in which the Guardians have now been authorized to carry on the emigration:—

Ballina, Ballyshannon, Bantry, Castlereagh, Claremorris, Donegal, Dromore West, Dunfanaghy, Glenties, Kenmare, Killala, Manorhamilton, Portumna, Skibbereen, Sligo, Stranorlar, Strokestown, and Westport.

Mr. Tuke's Committee have undertaken the arrangements in the district which was in their charge last year, viz.:—Belmullet, Clifden, and Oughterard Unions, and parts of Newport and Galway Unions, as well as in the Swineford Union and in two additional electoral divisions of Newport Union, and in the Island of Arranmore, off the county Donegal; four local committees have also been formed in the county Kerry, viz.:—In Ardfert, Killarney, Valentia, and Caherciveen.

Mr. Tuke's Committee sent out 254 persons on the 28th March last, and 83 on the 29th March, and preparations for despatching other parties are in active progress.

* Appendix, p. 71.

† Including Newport Union in which the Emigration is managed by Mr. Tuke's Committee.

We cannot conclude these remarks on the subject of State-aided emigration without expressing our sense of the great assistance afforded by the Naval authorities in allowing gun-boats to be used for the embarkation of the emigrants, who were thus conveyed comfortably on board the ocean steamers at places where embarkation by means of small boats would have been attended with much discomfort and inconvenience; we desire also to recognise the cordial co-operation of the officers of the gun-boats employed on this service, whereby the arrangements of the Boards of Guardians and Committees who were responsible for the shipment of the emigrants were greatly facilitated.

15. We now continue the series of recent statistics by repeating, with one additional year, the table showing the number of persons assisted by Boards of Guardians to emigrate under the provisions of the Irish Poor Relief Acts, and the cost incurred for that purpose in each year, that is to say, for thirty-four years, ended on the 25th of March.

LABOURERS ACT.

16. The Labourers Act received the Royal Assent on the 25th August, 1883, and we forwarded a copy to each Rural Sanitary Authority for their information, with a Circular* dated 8th September, 1883.

We pointed out in the Circular that the Act was intended to provide improved house accommodation for agricultural labourers and their families within any particular section of the Sanitary District, and that the 21st section of the Act defined the term agricultural labourer to mean a person who habitually works for hire in agricultural work upon the land of some other person, and whose principal means of living is such hire, and includes a herdsman, and that the term did not include any person who is not paid for his labour by wages. We also stated that we should be at all times ready to give the Sanitary Authority any advice or assistance they might require in the exercise of their powers and the discharge of their duties in carrying the provisions of the Act into execution.

To aid the several Rural Sanitary Authorities in preparing their applications to our Board for Provisional Orders under sections 7 and 8 of the Act we issued, on the 19th of October, a memorandum of instructions,† pointing out the various points essentially necessary to secure the result desired.

On the 9th November we issued a further Circular,‡ in which we described the accommodation required in each dwelling to be provided under the Act, and some other conditions we deemed it judicious to prescribe in regard to the construction of these dwellings. We have estimated that the cost of a cottage with the minimum accommodation prescribed by our Circular will be from £65 to £70, and if there be an additional bedroom £80. We have also calculated that taking into account the building, the purchase of the ground, and other incidental expenses, the cost of providing a labourer's dwelling, with half an acre of land, will be, on the average, about £100.

On the 17th of January last we notified to Sanitary Authorities§ the decision of the Lords Commissioners of Her Majesty's Treasury that loans under the Labourers Act should be repayable in thirty-five years, and may be repaid by means of an uniform annuity of £5 7s. 2d. covering interest and principal.

In a Circular|| of the 8th September to the Urban Sanitary Authorities, to whom it applied, we drew attention to section 20 of the Act providing for the extension of the provisions of the "Artizans and Labourers' Dwellings Improvement Act, 1875," to all Urban Sanitary Districts in Ireland containing, according to the last published census, a population of twelve thousand and upwards; and also to any other Urban Sanitary District in Ireland to which we may by Provisional Order declare that the said Act shall extend.

A considerable stimulus has been given by the 11th section of the Act to the enforcement of Orders made under the "Labourers Cottages and Allotments (Ireland) Act, 1882," or under the "Land Law (Ireland) Act, 1881," for providing accommodation for the labourers employed on any holding, and much good is being done in this direction.

The Act has also been indirectly the means of drawing attention to the unfit or defective sanitary state of labourers' dwellings in many localities, and improvement appears to have been thereupon voluntarily effected, or to be in course of being effected, by the owners of such tenements.

As regards the direct operation of the Act the expectations held out to labourers have been largely responded to.

Representations were freely signed by ratepayers to the effect that the existing house accommodation for labourers was deficient, or that the dwellings were unfit for human habitation, and though there are many instances where the original desire to build houses and allot the land attached thereto of the prescribed dimensions has been somewhat moderated as local circumstances became more accurately known, yet upon the whole a large number of representations under the Act hold good.

The extent to which it has been proposed, since the Act was passed, to have its provisions put in operation may be indicated by the fact that about 707 improvement schemes were inaugurated by 70 Sanitary Authorities for the erection of about 6,000 houses with land attached thereto. The great majority of these improvement schemes were projected in Unions situated in Leinster and Munster.

Further consideration of the subject, however, or other circumstances, resulted in the schemes falling through in ten of the Unions referred to, and the Sanitary Authorities of sixty Unions only presented petitions to our Board praying that orders might be made confirming their schemes; thirty-three of these petitions were received from Unions in Munster, twenty-five from Leinster, two from Connaught, but there were none from Ulster; in six of these Unions the proceedings were subsequently postponed or abandoned, leaving fifty-four Unions to be dealt with, and inquiries were accordingly ordered in fifty Unions, and the petitions from the remaining four are under consideration.

Of the inquiries so ordered forty-four have been held, and up to the 31st March last, instructions were given for the preparation of orders authorizing the schemes in seventeen Unions in Leinster and Munster, and providing for the erection in those seventeen Unions of nine hundred and fifty-eight houses; the work connected with others is proceeding with as little delay as possible.

In six instances the inquiries resulted in the schemes failing by reason of informal or incorrect representations or other causes, and in some few other cases it is possible that the orders cannot be granted, but in the great majority we shall be able, we believe, to issue them. Until all the reports of the inquiries have been considered it would be difficult to express a decided opinion as to the extent of the operation of the Act during the present year, but from the information before us we estimate that we shall be able to make orders confirming schemes which will enable Sanitary Authorities to provide over 2,800 labourers' dwellings with land attached thereto.

FINANCIAL STATISTICS OF YEAR ENDED 29TH SEPTEMBER, 1883.

17. We now proceed to the statistics arising out of the accounts of the Unions for the year ended 29th September, 1883.

We deal in the first place with Poor Relief Expenditure.

Year ended 29th September.	Net Annual Value.	Poor Rate before.	Poor Relief Expenditure during the Year.						Numbers relieved.
			In-Maintenance and Clothing.	Out-door Relief.	Cost of Relief in Blind and Deaf and Dumb Asylums and Extern Hospitals.	Salaries and Rations of Officers.	All other Expenses.	Total.	In Work-houses.	Out-door.	In Blind and Deaf and Dumb Asylums.	Total
£	£	£	£	£	£	£	£	£

From the above table it will be seen that there has been an increase of £4,706 in "in-maintenance and clothing;" an increase of £5,489 in "out-door relief;" an increase of £714 in "cost of relief in asylums and extern hospitals;" an increase of £1,006 in "salaries and rations of officers," and an increase of £63,447 in "all other expenses," making a total increase of £75,362 in the Poor Relief expenditure for the year. This, however, includes a sum of £54,004 expended from grants received by unions under the Emigration Clauses of the Arrears of Rent (Ireland) Act.

TREASURY SUBSIDIES.

18. The following is a statement of the Parliamentary Grant for Medical and Educational purposes, and for Salaries under the "Public Health (Ireland) Act," for the year ended 25th March 1883:—

	Amount allowed for the Year.
Medical purposes,	73,889	4	9
Educational purposes,	10,375	6	8
Total for Medical and Educational purposes,	84,264	11	2
For Salaries under Public Health Act,	13,880	11	7
Total,	98,145	3	0

The total amount allowed under the Parliamentary Grant for Medical and Educational purposes for the year ended 25th March, 1883, namely, £84,264 11s. 5d., is £1,002 11s. 1d. less than the amount for the previous year.

The amount of Salaries under the Public Health (Ireland) Act, namely, £13,880 11s. 7d., is £356 17s. 2d. less than for the previous year.

9. STATEMENT of the Annual Collection and Expenditure of Poor Rates for twenty-one years, ended on the 29th September, 1883; showing the Net Annual Value of Property rated, the Amount of Poor Rate collected, and the Expenditure under the Poor Relief and Medical Charities Acts, &c., for each year ended 29th September, from 1863 to 1883, inclusive.

[illegible]

* These payments are calculated upon the expenditure exclusive of the amount (£4,400) expended from grants obtained by unions under the Emigration Charges of the Army of Rome (Ireland) Act.

Hence it will be seen that while the total expenditure of Poor Rates, for all purposes, viz.: poor relief, medical relief, burial-grounds, registration of births deaths and marriages, sanitary measures, superannuation, payments under the Contagious Diseases (Animals) Acts, and under the National School Teachers Act, was, in 1882, £1,255,973; the expenditure in 1883 for those purposes was £1,326,963.

The current Sanitary Expenditure for the year was £52,285 in comparison with £51,345 in the previous year.

MEDICAL CHARITIES ACT, AND VACCINATION ACTS.

20. We next submit to your Excellency the report of our proceedings under these Acts for the year ended 30th September, 1883.

The annexed table exhibits, in the usual form, the fluctuations in the number of cases in which medical relief was afforded under the Medical Charities Act, during each of the twelve years ended 30th September, 1883, in each province, and for the whole of Ireland.

The cases are distinguished, as usual, into those prescribed for at the Dispensaries, and those attended at the patients' houses, each class of cases occupying a separate column.

In Ulster there has been a decrease of 2,338 in the number of cases prescribed for at the Dispensaries, and an increase of 3,826 in the number of those attended at their own houses.

In Munster there has been a decrease of 8,891 in the number of cases prescribed for at the Dispensaries, and a decrease of 1,670 in the number of those attended at their own houses.

In Leinster there has been an increase of 3,275 in the number of cases prescribed for at the Dispensaries, and a decrease of 378 in the number of those attended at their own houses.

In Connaught there has been a decrease of 3,412 in the number of cases prescribed for at the Dispensaries, and an increase of 317 in the number of those attended at their own houses.

The last three columns in the Table show a decrease of 9,271 cases for all Ireland, including both classes, as compared with the previous year.

It will also be seen from the Table that there was a net decrease of 76,918 in the number of cases in 1881 as compared with 1880, and a decrease of 17,357 in the number of cases in 1882 as compared with 1881. It is satisfactory to observe the further decrease in the number of cases for the year 1883 as compared with the number prescribed for and attended in 1882.

PUBLIC HEALTH.

30. Our Report upon Public Health is continued from the last annual Report, in which details were given of the operations in regard to sewerage and water-supply under the provisions of the Public Health Act, 1878, in continuation of the detail of proceedings under the Act of 1874.

The extent of the operations relating to sewerage and water-supply is still in some degree measured in Rural districts by the number of the Orders under seal, fixing the area of charge for each such operation, together with the loans borrowed for these purposes through the Public Works Commissioners.

In the year 1875-76 the number of such Orders was 79; in 1876-77 it was 89; in 1877-78 it was 122; in 1878-79 it was 117; in 1879-80 it was 126; in 1880-1 it was 103; in 1881-2, it was 79, and in 1882-3 it was 83. From 25th March, 1883, to the 25th March, 1884, the number of additional Orders has been 79, issued to 58 different Unions.

On the whole, therefore, 877 Orders, fixing areas of charge for sewerage or water-supply, or both, have been issued during the last nine years.

These Orders have been applied for by 157 different Boards of Guardians out of 163 acting for Rural Sanitary Districts.

The preceding statements relate to Rural Sanitary Districts only, Orders fixing areas of charge not being applicable to Urban Sanitary Districts, inasmuch as in such districts all sanitary expenses are chargeable upon funds levied from the whole district.

LOANS.

31. In both Urban and Rural Sanitary Districts a considerable part of the expenditure on sewerage and water-supply is carried out by means of loans which, on the recommendation of the Local Government Board, are issued to the Sanitary Authority in each case by the Public Works Commissioners for Ireland.

In the year ended 31st March, 1876, loans were so recommended to the extent of £37,584; in the following year to the further amount of £41,085; in the year ended 31st March, 1878, to the amount of £62,056; in the year ended 31st March, 1879, to the amount of £124,454; in the year ended 31st March, 1880, to the amount of £292,824; in the year ended 31st March, 1881, to the amount of £199,252; in the year ended 31st March, 1882, to the amount of £202,374; and in the year ended March, 1883, to the amount of £66,954, making a total of £1,026,583, in the course of the eight years.

The following is a List of Loans sanctioned by the Local Government Board, Ireland, to the 31st March, 1884, in continuation of a similar list in last Report.

This expenditure, which is independent of disbursements from the current rates for the same purposes, relates mainly to the cost of structural works for water-supply and sewerage.

The amount of sanitary expenditure in Rural Sanitary Districts amounted in the year ended 29th September, 1883, to £52,285 in comparison with £51,345 in the preceding year.

ARTIZANS AND LABOURERS' DWELLINGS ACT, 1875.

32. In our Report for 1883, an account is given in continuation of previous accounts, of the steps which had been taken under the Artizans and Labourers' Dwellings Act, 1875, up to that time.

We have now received from the undermentioned Local Authorities the following information respecting the steps since taken in reference to the projects under the Act within their respective districts:—

DUBLIN—PLUNKET-STREET AREA.

Since March, 1883, the Committee of Public Health, Dublin, have been occupied in getting possession of the property included in this area, and in detenanting the houses.

They are now in possession of the entire area, and have removed all the houses upon it with three or four exceptions.

The area has been divided into four lots, and it is now proposed to recommend the Council of the Corporation to publish advertisements inviting tenders for the erection of suitable dwellings for the working classes.

The amount of the loans sanctioned for the scheme is £27,000; the Commissioners of Public Works have advanced £20,300 for the purchase of property, and application is about to be made to them for the balance of the loans.

CORK.

Since 31st March, 1883, no progress has been made with the improvement of any of the condemned areas, nor have any advances of money been obtained since that date from the Commissioners of Public Works for carrying on the undertaking.

The remainder of the ground cleared in area No. 1 (the only one of the seven condemned areas in which the scheme has been fully carried out), has, however, been let to the Improved Dwellings' Company for the purpose of erecting dwellings thereon.

The Corporation has been deterred, it appears, from proceeding with the further execution of the scheme by the large expenditure entailed by the improvement of the one area, and the comparatively small return in revenue derived therefrom.

No further proceedings have been taken in Belfast, and no steps have been taken under the Act in either Limerick or Londonderry.

DEPARTMENTAL ARRANGEMENTS.

33. The importance of holding the inquiries under the Labourers Act without unnecessary delay rendered it desirable to obtain some assistance for the purpose, and the services of two additional Inspectors, Dr. Woodhouse and Major Bushe Fox, were temporarily obtained to aid our permanent Inspectors in the discharge of this duty.

We have no changes in regard to the permanent staff of the department to report to your Excellency.

We have the honour to be,

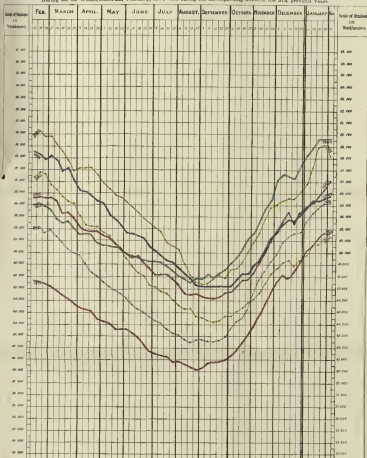

Your Excellency's obedient Servants,

G. O. TREVELYAN.

NO. 1.—LIABILITY of subsequent occupier for payment of SEED RATE. Decision of the COURT of QUEEN'S BENCH in the case of the GUARDIANS of CASTLEBAR UNION versus John Ellicott.

Local Government Board Dublin,

SIR,

30th November, 1883.

Adverting to their circular of the 18th August, 1881, No. 239/M., relating to the collection of seed rates in cases of changes of occupancy after the making of the special rate, the Local Government Board for Ireland think it right to state for the information of the Board of Guardians that in a case of the Guardians of the Poor of Castlebar Union, Plaintiffs, John Ellicott (who became occupier after the person to whom the seed was supplied), Defendant, brought before the High Court of Justice in Ireland Queen's Bench Division, in which judgment was delivered on the 7th November, 1883, it was held by the Court that upon the true construction of the Seeds Supply (Ireland) Act, 1880, the seed rate became payable by the Defendant by reason of his subsequent occupancy.

NO. 2.—PAYMENTS TO NATIONAL SCHOOL TEACHERS.

Local Government Board, Dublin,

27th December, 1883.

SIR,

In pursuance of the 4th Section of "The National School Teachers (Ireland) Act, 1875," the Local Government Board for Ireland transmit to you herewith, to be laid before the Board of Guardians of Union, the notice which they are required by that Section to transmit, on or before the 1st day of January, to the Guardians of every union which shall not at such time be a contributory union within the meaning of the Act.

The notice now transmitted, as in the case of the notice which was transmitted on the 30th December last, requires the Guardians within forty days from the receipt thereof, to inform the Local Government Board whether, for the purpose of increasing the remuneration of the teachers of National Schools within the union, they are willing to make their union a contributory union within the meaning of the Act, and the Guardians will observe therefore that by the present notice they are now called upon in pursuance of the requirement of the Act, to decide whether they will become contributory for the year 1884-85 (that is for the year commencing on the 1st April next), and subsequent years, until the resolution to contribute be legally revoked.

The Board forwarded with their circular of the 30th August, 1875, a copy of the Act, and of various other documents relating to this subject, and they desire to refer the Board of Guardians to that circular and the documents which accompanied it, for any information which they may require before replying to the enclosed notice.

The Board have to add that the Commissioners of National Education have furnished them with an estimate of the probable amount which will be payable by the Guardians of the several unions in results fees to teachers of National Schools within the respective unions for the year 1884-85, and the liability which according to this estimate, the Guardians will incur by making their union a contributory one is not expected to exceed £

NO. 3.—MODE of dealing with LOANS in UNION ACCOUNTS.

Local Government Board, Dublin,

20th March, 1884.

SIR,

The Local Government Board for Ireland have observed that a diversity of practice at present prevails with regard to the mode of dealing with loans in union accounts, and being desirous that a uniform system should be adopted, which will exhibit in a convenient form, in the half-yearly abstracts, all transactions relating to the receipt and expenditure of funds of that nature, the Board consider it expedient to issue instructions upon the subject for the guidance of Clerks of Unions generally.

In some unions it has been the practice hitherto to credit the amount of loans received to the electoral divisions concerned, and to debit the divisions with the expenditure of the same. In such cases, of course, the receipt and expenditure of the sums borrowed are shown in the half-yearly abstracts of accounts, form 5 b. In other unions, however, the receipt and expenditure of loans have been excluded from the electoral divisional accounts, and the disadvantage attending this course, viz., that the expenditure of a loan does not appear under its proper heading in the half-yearly abstracts which embrace the period during which such expenditure has been incurred, constitutes, in the opinion of the Board, an objection to that mode of procedure. Such a course renders it impossible to ascertain accurately from the abstracts, the amount of expenditure under particular heads.

In order that each column on the discharge side of the half-yearly abstract, form 5 b, may show the actual outlay in the half-year for the purpose indicated by its heading, the Board have to request that, in future, the receipt and expenditure of all loans for ordinary union purposes may be brought into the electoral divisional accounts, and shown in the abstracts; and they have also to request that strict care may be taken, when the repayment of a loan is brought to charge against electoral divisions, that such repayment shall appear in the abstract under the heading "Repayment of Loans," and not under the heading indicative of the purpose for which the loan may have been obtained.

The Board have considered it necessary to make such alterations in the existing form of abstract as will render it possible to ascertain, without difficulty, the receipts and expenditure of unions, inclusive or exclusive of loans, as the information may, from time to time, be required, and for that purpose have introduced a separate column on the charge side for loans received, and a form of table at foot of the discharge side, in which the amount of any loan or loans expended and included in the ordinary expenditure columns can be shown. Two other forms of table have been added in which the particulars of loans received can be set forth, and the loans in respect of which repayments may be made can be specified, respectively.

A copy of the revised form of abstract is enclosed.

For the purpose of dealing with the repayment of loans in the union ledger, it would be desirable that an account should be opened for each loan, as well as a general repayment of loans account, and an account for the person or body from whom a loan or loans shall have been obtained; and, in dealing with the receipt and expenditure of loans, in addition to a general loan expenditure account and a general loan credit account, a separate account will be required for each loan which will show the unexpended balance of the loan at the close of a half-year.

In the event of a portion of a loan received remaining unexpended at the close of a half-year, care should be taken when preparing any estimate of rates, in which the balance would appear as a credit, to include on the debit side of the estimate the full amount of such balance as anticipated expenditure under the heading denoting the purpose for which the loan shall have been obtained. This is obviously necessary in order to prevent a balance from a loan obtained for a specific purpose operating as an ordinary credit in favour of electoral divisions.

By order of the Board,

W. D. WODSWORTH, Secretary.

To the Clerk of each Union.

No. 5.—EMIGRATION under the ARREARS of RENT ACT.—Arrangements relative to the Payment of Allowances to EMIGRANTS on landing.

Local Government Board, Dublin,

24th April, 1883.

SIR,

With reference to their Circular of the 9th instant, No. 131/M., in which the Local Government Board for Ireland stated that arrangements had been made by which Boards of Guardians might transmit to the persons named therein, at certain ports in North America, the allowances to be paid to Emigrants on landing at the ports, the Board desire to state that they are now informed that one of those persons, namely, "The Superintendent of Castle Garden Immigration Depôt, New York," is unable to undertake to receive-remittances for emigrants.

It will be advisable, therefore, that Boards of Guardians, in the case of Emigrants booked to land at New York, should now make arrangements with the owners of the steamships which convey the emigrants to cash the emigrants' drafts.

The Board are informed that the firms named below will instruct their Agents at New York to honour emigrants' drafts in any form and to any amount on being presented at New York, on condition, in each case, that the amount of the drafts be previously lodged at the head office of the shipowners employed, at Liverpool.

Messrs. Henderson Brothers, Anchor Line.

The Inman Steamship Company.

The National Steamship Company.

The Cunard Steamship Company.

Messrs. Ismay, Imrie, & Co., White Star Line.

All these firms have their offices at Liverpool, and emigrants by the steamships of these lines are landed at the private wharves of the firms in New York, whence they are conveyed by small steamers to Castle Garden.

There is a cash office on each wharf.

I am, sir, your obedient servant,

W. D. WODSWORTH, Secretary.

To the Clerk, Union.

No. 6.—REPORT of the EMIGRATION COMMITTEE on the operations conducted by them under the 20th Section of the "ARREARS OF RENT (IRELAND) ACT, 1882," during the Season of 1883.

Emigration Office, Local Government Board,

August, 15, 1883.

GENTLEMEN,

By the 20th section of the "Arrears of Rent (Ireland) Act, 1882," State-aided emigration might, with the consent of the Lord Lieutenant, take place in the sixty-six unions situated wholly or in part in the county of Donegal, the province of Connaught, and the counties of Clare, Kerry, and Cork (West Riding).

Forty-four unions were allowed to participate in the grant of £100,000, provided for facilitating emigration. Applications were received from six more to be similarly scheduled, but they had to be refused, either because they were made too late or because it was not considered necessary that the district should come under the provisions of the section.

Among the forty-four unions thirteen were wholly scheduled, while in the remaining thirty-one only parts of each (consisting of one or more electoral divisions) were deemed to be in sufficiently bad circumstances to require the assistance of the grant.

Table L* attached, shows the unions and the number of electoral divisions in each which were thus scheduled, the maximum amount of grant sanctioned in the electoral divisions, and the acreage, valuation, and population of the districts which were marked off in this manner. It will be seen that this area embraces a tract of country extending from the north of Donegal to the south of Kerry, of 4,393,643 acres, valued at £1,163,186, and with a population of 832,814 inhabitants. We annex a map to illustrate Table L, showing how the scheduled districts are scattered through the west of Ireland.

In four unions of the forty-four, the scheduled districts of which contain 121,970 acres, valuation £43,214, and population 26,269, there was no emigration under the 20th section of the Act, either because no steps were taken, or because the lists of such persons who were recommended by the guardians as candidates for the grant were not drawn up sufficiently early in the season.

This left an area of 4,271,673 acres (or about 6,674½ square miles) in forty unions, valuation £1,119,972, and with a population of 806,545, where emigration by Government assistance was carried out.

According to the 20th section grants could be made to Boards of Guardians, and to committees approved by the Lord Lieutenant, and such sums were to be applied by them towards defraying the expenses of emigration. All arrangements had in consequence to be made by these bodies, each of whom was the local emigrating authority within the district assigned to it.

* Appendix I.

Shortly after the passing of the Arrears of Rent Act, His Excellency sanctioned a set of rules (a copy of which is attached*) for the purpose of ensuring that State-aided emigration should be conducted upon certain principles. These rules dealt with the selection of emigrants, the provision of funds, the arrangements at the ports of embarkation and disembarkation, and the minimum outfit which would have to be provided.

His Excellency, moreover, appointed an Emigration Committee whose duty it was to inspect the candidates for emigration, to recommend the grant for such as were eligible for State aid, and to direct and supervise the action of the local emigrating authority. This Committee was placed under the Local Government Board, and was responsible to that department for enforcing the rules issued by Government. At first two members, Mr. Redington and Major Gaskell, were appointed, but as soon as actual operations were commenced in March, it was found necessary to add four temporary members to the Committee; those selected were, Sir Robert Jackson, C.B., Mr. Wall, Mr. Ross of Bladenburg, and Captain Sampson.

The services of three committees who had consented to carry out operations under the 20th section of the Act were fortunately secured. The most important of these was the committee of "Mr. Tuke's Fund," which had had considerable experience in the work of emigration in the west of Ireland last year. To this committee were assigned three unions and portions of two others.† These were essentially poor districts in Mayo and Galway where emigration was much required, where the guardians could not supplement the grant without unduly burdening the ratepayers, and where the people were unable to help themselves. The other two were local committees, formed in Ardfert‡ (Tralee Union), and in Killarney,§ respectively, for the purpose of conducting emigration in the neighbourhood of those places. Elsewhere the Boards of Guardians undertook the management.

One member of the Emigration Committee was attached to Mr. Tuke's committee to assist in the important operations undertaken by that body. The remaining members did duty in the rest of the scheduled districts, or in Dublin, where it was necessary that one at least should constantly remain to carry on the office work.

A little more than one-fourth of the £100,000 allotted by Parliament was devoted to the districts managed by Mr. Tuke's committee. The remainder, after deducting the expenses of administration, was allotted to the unions where operations were conducted by Boards of Guardians and by the committees of Ardfert and Killarney.

In Table II. annexed,|| we have shown the number of persons listed by the local emigrating authorities as candidates for Government assistance, the number of those "selected" on the recommendation of the Emigration Committee and for whom the grant was sanctioned, and the number who actually emigrated under the provisions of the 20th section of the Act, together with their destinations and the grants issued.

It will be observed that about half of the candidates were finally selected for emigration. Some failed to appear for inspection and many were rejected as ineligible for State aid. About 80 per cent. only of such as were selected are shown in the table as having actually sailed. This result is due to several causes, amongst others, to the fact that

Boards of Guardians, to whom the details of emigration work was new, delayed in some cases completing their arrangements, and the selected families altered their plans; or else, that the people themselves were not able to make up the balance which was required of them in order to secure their satisfactory emigration.

The United States proved to be the most popular destination, but this arose principally from the fact that Canada was a terra incognita to many who had the haziest notions of the conditions of life in the Dominion. Those that had any knowledge of Canada or of Australia gladly availed themselves of the opportunity of going there, and once a few persons in a locality made up their minds to emigrate to either of these colonies it was remarkable how readily the example was followed.

Unfortunately it was very difficult to send out those destined for Australia, for emigration was closed during the greater part of the season. The opportunities of getting free or assisted passages do not and cannot occur often, as the money voted by the Colonial Governments for this purpose is limited, and emigrants must await their turn. In Ballyvaughan union the bulk of the people wished to go to Australia, which accounts for the fact that the numbers sailed are few there in comparison to the numbers selected.

Out of the total grant of £100,000, it appears by the Table that only some £82,000 has been issued—in respect of persons actually gone—to committees and guardians who carried out emigration; adding some £4,000 or £5,000 for expenses of administration there still remains a balance of £13,000 or £14,000 in hand. This is due to the fact that at the outset full grants were issued to the emigrating authority for all the persons “selected,” which amounted, with a small margin for administration, to the money provided by Parliament. Subsequently it was found, for reasons already given, that all the selected families did not emigrate, but the grants allotted to them were not returned by the guardians until the end of the season. On account of this we were unable to comply with the numerous requests to inspect other families who were anxious to emigrate, and the consequence was, that in spite of their desire to leave this country, they could not be sanctioned for State aid.

Table III. annexed,* shows the previous occupations of the heads of families who received State aid. A large proportion are not classed as occupiers of land. In the west of Ireland in and around the country towns, the labourers, artisans, and small tradesmen, form a very needy class, and have been suffering from what appears to be great slackness in trade and a very general want of employment. They have less to part with than those that hold even a small plot of land, and the wrench at leaving their homes is not so great; hence it is only natural that they should be the first to accept the proffered assistance to emigrate. Added to this, the present season has been the first year of emigration by State aid, and thus those living in and near the small towns, especially those nearest to the centre of the union, heard more of the Government scheme than was possible for persons in remote country parts.

In the last Table IV., attached,* we give, as far as it was possible to make it out, the total cost per head of emigration in each union, and the sources from which the funds were obtained. We have not only shown any contribution which the guardians have supplied, and the amount of cash lodged by the emigrants to supplement the grant, but also the approximate value of the clothes which the people themselves produced. It will be seen that the general average cost per head is somewhat lower than the figures given in the Report of Mr. Tuke's committee, but this is accounted for by the fact that whereas they sent numbers of their emigrants to Manitoba and into the far west of the United States, the Boards of Guardians were not able to do so, but only booked the families to their friends who lived generally nearer to the eastern coast.

It will now be necessary to give a slight sketch of the form of procedure adopted by the Emigration Committee for the purpose of carrying out the rules which His Excellency prescribed for giving effect to the 20th section of the Act under which we acted.

The first step taken was to supply the Boards of Guardians of scheduled unions and the committees of Ardfert and Killarney, with Forms on which to enter the names, ages, occupations, &c., of those persons whom they considered were proper candidates for State aid. Persons so entered were grouped by families, and the responsibility of admitting them upon the lists rested naturally with the Board or the committee, who from their local knowledge, were alone in a position to judge of all the circumstances connected with each case.

It became then the duty of a member of the Emigration Committee to inspect the candidates who were thus recommended by the local authority. He satisfied himself as far as it was possible that they were proper recipients of State aid, and was guided by the following principles :—

1. None but whole families were accepted. Occasionally (but rarely) under exceptional circumstances individual persons were selected.
2. Families had to be strong enough to emigrate, i.e., the breadwinners in a family had to be numerous enough to support the children.
3. Heads of families selected the destination to which they desired to be sent, and were allowed every latitude in the choice of a new home, but under the following conditions :—

(a.) They could not go to Canada without the approval of the High Commissioner for the Dominion.

(b.) They could not go to the Australian Colonies without an order from the Agent-General of the Colony chosen.

(c.) They might only be sent to the United States on production of a letter of encouragement from near friends there.

Changes of destination were only permitted by the authority of the Emigration Committee or of one of its members.

The obvious intention of these rules was to secure as far as it was possible, the prosperity of the emigrant in the future.

In Canada there has been this year a considerable demand for labour, as many of the inhabitants in Ontario have migrated towards the western provinces of the Dominion; the Canadian Government, moreover, had not only facilitated our sending out emigrants to the country by paying a portion of the ocean fare, but they took upon themselves the task of distributing the families as they arrived at Quebec, to places throughout the Dominion, where work was most likely to be obtained. This was a very satisfactory arrangement, and one which assured the welfare of emigrants proceeding to Canada; but no such arrangement could be made with the Government of the United States, and the only way that appeared likely to ensure the future success of emigrants who were going to that country was to insist upon the production of letters of encouragement from their friends.

When the families were definitely approved by the Local Government Board, Forms were sent down to the Board of Guardians showing the total estimated cost of the emigration of each family (including outfits) from their homes to their final destinations, and how the expense was to be met, viz., by grant sanctioned, by contributions if necessary from emigrants (in clothes and perhaps in cash), and by loans or payments from the current rates where the Guardians were willing to assist poor families.

As soon as the Guardians (or the committee) had received the grants sanctioned, they were in a position to make the arrangements for sending off those whose emigration had been approved of. This was done under the supervision, as far as it was possible, of a member of the Emigration Committee, and the main features of the operations were:—

1. Clothing the families, or completing their outfits according to the scale laid down by Government.

2. Taking passages for them from the port of embarkation to Quebec (if for Canada) and passages and inland railway tickets to their final destinations in the States (that is where the friends lived on the faith of whose letters the emigrants had been allowed to leave this country). In the case of those destined for Canada, moreover, a sum of money was previously sent to the Dominion Government Immigration Agent, to defray expenses of travelling and food during the journey from Quebec to the places to which the emigrants were forwarded.

3. Arrangements for the transmission of families from their homes to the port of embarkation. A conducting guide was sent with the batches of emigrants to look after the people and their baggage during the journey, to supply them with food if necessary, and to see them on board the ocean steamer. Once arrived at the port of embarkation the conductor acted under the Government Agents appointed by His Excellency. The three ports of departure most accessible to the Scheduled Districts were Londonderry, Galway, and Queenstown, and at each of these two agents were appointed, one male, and one female. Their duty was to look after the emigrants, to secure them decent and comfortable lodgings, and generally under the Emigration Committee to superintend the arrangements at the port.

4. The transmission of money to America for the payment of landing allowances to emigrants, which were cashed on the production of cheques at the port of disembarkation. The smallest landing allowance which could be given was calculated at £1 per adult, and 10s. per child over one year, but in some cases we had the satisfaction of knowing that these sums were increased.

It was arranged that the sums of money to defray landing allowances should be sent to Mr. Stafford, the Dominion Government Immigration Agent at Quebec, to the Agents of the Shipping Companies at Boston and Philadelphia, and to the Chief Superintendent at Castle Garden (New York); subsequently, however, the last named gentleman found it impossible to attend to this business, and the shipping companies undertook to cash the emigrants' orders at all ports in the United States. This arrangement we found to be quite satisfactory.

In order to secure, as far as possible, a good reception to the emigrants in their future homes, we urged upon the Guardians the advisability of telling the heads of the families to write to their friends beforehand informing them of the date of their departure and the ship by which they would sail, so that they might be met on their arrival. We also urged that a descriptive list, of such as were proceeding to Canada, should be sent beforehand to Mr. Stafford in Quebec, this list to state the emigrant's trade or occupation, and any other particulars that might help him to get suitable employment.

On referring to Table I. it will be seen at a glance that the number of applicants for State aid was large. It would have been larger if we had been able to inspect other candidates who, in several Unions, came forward and were recommended by the Guardians; but as we have already explained, the applications had to be refused. If we may judge from these numbers we are entitled to conclude that State-aided emigration was exceedingly popular among those whom it was sought to benefit. We found by experience that this was so. Families eagerly availed themselves of the boon offered, and the only difficulty was to refuse the applications of poor families when there were too many young children, and where the breadwinners were not numerous enough.

Emigration by families, instead of by individuals, was also successful, and the people were grateful for the opportunity afforded of all going away together. They fully appreciated the scheme which helped them to remove out of districts where they had experienced many privations, where the land was poor and the holdings too small for their requirements, and where employment was intermittent and uncertain, to go all together to a country where they could live in comfort on the high wages which were to be earned there.

It is perhaps too soon to report upon the results which have been achieved with regard to the future welfare of those whose emigration has been assisted by Government. It has not been possible to collect sufficient information on this subject as the movement is as yet of too recent a date. Those who chose Canada had the advantage of the assistance afforded by Government agencies. We take this opportunity to acknowledge the efforts made by the Canadian authorities in this respect, and as a proof that their action was attended with good results, we have to report that everything we have heard of those who chose to go to Canada has been satisfactory. We would draw attention to the copies of letters which Mr. Trench (Honorary Secretary, Ardert Committee) has attached to his report in the district he managed; and from some of the communications we have had with the Boards of Guardians we understand that the same satisfactory results have attended other families who went to Canada. Mr. Trench's report is attached.*

While on this subject we are bound to say a few words upon those emigrants who have been returned by the Immigration Commissioners in the States. Their number is quite insignificant when compared with the total number who received State aid; only thirteen families or fifty persons having been returned (up to the date of writing this Report) out of some 17,000. In the cases of several families the letters of encouragement proved a failure, either the friends did not meet them on arrival, or else were unable to assist them in obtaining employment as promised; in the cases of others the unexpected death of the breadwinner of the family (in one case after two months successful stay in the States) deprived them of their means of support; and in several cases emigrants, sanctioned by the Local Government Board for Canada, were sent by the Guardians to the United States without any authority for so doing. Exceptions of this sort are sure to arise in dealing with a large number of persons, and we submit that these facts show that there was scarcely sufficient justification for the alarm which was excited in America with regard to the "importation of pauper emigrants."

If it can be shown that family emigration is a boon to those who are assisted to leave their poor and miserable homes, it can also be shown that it is beneficial to the congested districts where it has been carried out.

Emigration by families does not reduce the vigour of the population which individual emigration may be supposed to do, for it does not take away the strong and leave the weak behind.

Emigration conducted on right principles must relieve the congestion which is unhappily to be found in the west of Ireland. In reference to those emigrants who held land, we find that consolidation of holdings took place in ninety per cent. of the cases as to which we have information. It is impossible to say what has been done in the districts from which we have no returns; but we think that the above result may be taken as fairly typical of the whole, especially as it is confirmed by the experience of Mr. Tuke's Committee. Even in districts, where those who have gone were principally persons who did not occupy land and therefore where no great consolidation of holdings could take place the relief must be considerable, for the removal of poor families, many of whom are on the verge of destitution, must tend to make employment more regular and wages more certain for those who remain behind.

Although there is room for improvement in the general administration by Boards of Guardians of State-aided emigration, we think on the whole it was fairly well managed by them. In some Unions where it was attended to by a person of superior intelligence, emigration was successfully worked out, and the people went off well found and in comfort.

Where committees were formed, the results were in every way satisfactory, and the emigrants' future in their new homes generally well assured. This is an important point, for successful emigration not only depends upon the selection of the right families but also upon the care given by those who manage it in providing that the emigrants may commence their new life under the best auspices. We need scarcely allude to the operations of Mr. Tuke's Committee, whose exertions are already well known, and whose services to the poor in the west of Ireland are appreciated by Government, but we are anxious to testify to the personal trouble which has been taken and to the excellent results which have been achieved by the local committees of Ardfert and Killarney, as well as by some of the Boards of Guardians.

In conclusion we have to express our thanks to the Naval Authorities for the aid they gave during the operations of emigration. Gunboats were frequently lent for the purpose of taking State-aided emigrants to the ocean steamers. This assistance contributed considerably to the comfort of the families who were leaving the country, and lessened materially those difficulties which are to be experienced in conducting emigration from districts in the west of Ireland which are not in easy communication with the regular ports of embarkation.

We have the honour to be, Gentlemen,

Your obedient servants,

C. T. REDINGTON.

W. P. GASKELL.

EMIGRATION.—45 & 46 Victoria, Cap. 47.

RULES prescribed by the LORD LIEUTENANT in relation to the EMIGRATION of POOR PERSONS under the 18th, 19th, 20th, and 21st Sections of the Arrears of Rent (Ireland) Act, 1882.

Selection.

I. Boards of Guardians who are desirous to borrow money to supplement the grants offered by the Government for the emigration of poor persons resident within any Electoral Division of their Union scheduled under the 20th Section of the Arrears of Rent (Ireland) Act shall prepare lists in the annexed Form (7 C). In making the selection they will be aided by the Emigration Committee acting under the Local Government Board, or one member thereof; and they shall submit such lists to the Local Government Board, with a view of obtaining the Board's consent, as provided in Section 26 of 12 and 13 Vic., cap. 104.

II. As a rule, the Government grants shall be applied to the emigration of whole families only, but individuals may, in exceptional cases, be approved; and if females, they must place themselves under the care of a married couple approved by the Guardians, or of some person appointed by them, until they arrive at their destination.

Applicants for assistance to emigrate should, in all cases, be warned not to leave their employment, nor to make any preparation to emigrate, until they shall receive notice that they have been selected. Such notice of selection shall be given to every approved emigrant as soon as possible after the decision of the approving Authority shall have been made known.

Provision of Funds.

III. The Treasurer of the Union shall be requested to open a separate account, to be called the "Emigration Account," to the credit of which the money borrowed by the Guardians for emigration purposes shall be lodged. The Government grant shall be paid into the same account, and cheques on this account shall be signed in the usual manner by the presiding Chairman of any Board meeting and two other guardians present thereat, and shall be countersigned by the Clerk to the guardians.

If the whole number of persons for whose emigration grants are made by the Government shall not be sent out by the guardians, the grants made in respect of such persons shall be returned to the Commissioners of Public Works.

A Monthly Return shall be furnished to the Local Government Board by the Clerk of the Union, and countersigned by a member of the Emigration Committee, showing the number of emigrants who have embarked during the preceding month.

The guardians shall use their discretion in requiring applicants to contribute a portion of the cost of their emigration, and the amount of such contribution shall be paid into the emigration account.

Outfit.

IV. The guardians, in conjunction with the Emigration Committee or one member thereof, shall see that each emigrant has at least the including their subsistence during the journey. The Emigration Committee shall satisfy themselves as to the adequacy of these arrangements, and shall report them in detail to the Local Government Board, whose approval of them shall be obtained before the despatch of any selected emigrants. APPENDIX III.

REPORT OF THE ARDFERT EMIGRATION COMMITTEE, 1883.

Ardfert Emigration Committee,
8th August, 1883.

TO THE PRESIDENT OF THE LOCAL GOVERNMENT BOARD.

SIR,

I beg to report the proceedings of this Committee, appointed by His Excellency the Lord Lieutenant, under the provisions of Section xx. of the "Arrears Act," for the purpose of promoting the emigration of poor persons.

It was not until the Board of Guardians of the Tralee Union had passed the following resolution, as their answer to my motion, as an ex-officio member of the Board, that the cases of a large number of intending emigrants from this district should be taken up under the emigration powers conferred on Boards of Guardians, that I applied to the Lord Lieutenant for the appointment of this Committee, viz.:—"Resolved—that this Board does not contemplate the borrowing of any money under the provisions of the Arrears Act for the emigration of any persons except those who may be inmates of the house." Subsequently, upon my application to Mr. Hamilton, His Excellency was pleased to appoint, by letter of 1st February, 1883, a Committee for this district, consisting of the following:—W. T. Talbot-Crosbie, John G. Hewson, George F. Trench, George Mullins, John Hayes. Without any printed or formal notice having been issued, and as the result merely of an informal communication to a few of the applicants, the Committee immediately received and enrolled applications from heads of families, representing in all about 800 persons, besides a large number of applications from distant divisions, which the Committee felt bound to refuse to entertain lest the number should prove too great to be manageable.

Upon inspections by Mr. C. T. Redington and Captain Sampson this number became reduced, by non-appearance or disqualification, to 507, viz., 312 absolutely recommended, and 195 conditionally recommended pending the production of letters from friends, at their proposed destinations, advising their coming, and promising employment.

Those conditionally recommended have in most instances since produced the required letters, and have been absolutely recommended. A few have failed, and have consequently become disqualified, but in no instance have the Committee to report fraud in the production of forged or false letters of recommendation, so far as careful investigation could sift them.

The Committee was pleased to find that, from the first a large number of applicants named the British colonies, either Canada, Queensland, or New Zealand, as their destination. This is accounted for (1) by the fact that some emigrants from Ardfert had been successful in Canada and Queensland, and (2) from the insufficiency of the grant to provide outfit and passages to the inland states of America.

We have suffered considerable disappointment and have been involved in largely increased labour by the reduction of the grants below the sum named in the Act. In several of the electoral divisions concerned only £4, or even £3 per head, have been granted to this Committee for our emigrants. It appeared clear to the Committee that in Unions where the Board of Guardians refused, as in this case, to supplement the grants by taking a loan, it was within the discretion of His Excellency the Lord Lieutenant to grant the full amount of £5 per head to Committees appointed by him, but our representations to this effect were made without success.

Under these circumstances nothing remained for this Committee but to select one of two alternatives (1) either to give up the whole enterprise and disappoint the large numbers of suffering poor who were looking to us for aid, or (2) to endeavour by rigid economy in every department to bring down the expenses to the reach of the funds available from the Treasury grant and the emigrants' subscriptions.

With a view to economy we took the following steps:—

(1.) We put ourselves in communication with Mr. Pryce Jones, of Newtown (of the excellence and cheapness of whose manufactures some members of the Committee had had private experience), for the supply of clothing of all kinds, and received satisfactory estimates.

(2.) We opened negotiations with the Board of Directors of the Great Southern and Western Railway who, after some correspondence and inquiry, kindly agreed to make a reduction of one-third off the ordinary third class railway fares from Tralee to Queenstown. This reduction they have since then extended to Union emigrants as well. I enclose the form printed and supplied by them for this purpose.

(3.) We selected Miss O'Brien's Home in Queenstown (ticket of admission enclosed), as the cheapest and best lodging there.

(4.) We informed the applicants that in view of the reduction of the grants, unless considerable contributions in money and clothes were made by the applicants themselves, their emigrating would be impossible. In consequence of this they have contributed to a considerable extent.

By these means the emigration of almost all the recommended applicants has been provided for, the exceptions being those of a few who, from finding themselves unable to make the necessary contributions to supplement the grant, have been obliged to remain in this country, and those who changed their minds.

The applicants consisted mainly of three classes—

(1.) Farm labourers, living in cabins upon small plots of land originally common, but for many years the property of the occupiers who entered as squatters.

(2.) Farm labourers paying rents to farmers for their houses.—Both the above classes have been reduced to great poverty by the over-supply of labour in the district as the result of the want of sufficient employment by farmers during the five or six years past, and

(3.) Small broken down tenants.

In addition a few single persons were aided to join their relations abroad where none were depending on them at home.

The Committee opened a store for the clothing, of which goods to the value of £75 were purchased from Pryce Jones, and the emigrants were personally fitted by members of the Committee assisted by ladies of their families. We found them on the whole very easy to please, and grateful for the personal trouble and care taken for them. We gave out the clothes a few days before the start, and in only one or two cases have had reason to regret this arrangement. These were cases where the recipients changed their minds and have not yet sailed, though they propose and intend to do so still. Where they preferred it we gave the emigrants orders (see form enclosed) upon shops in Tralee for the goods they required, and this we did in all cases for boots and women's head-gear. The amount spent in this way has been £112 14s. 2d. We advise a change in the men's outfit by the omission of the overcoats which are quite unnecessary.

Mr. Ross of Bladenburg inspected our first party the day before they started and was pleased with the respectable and comfortable appearance they presented in their new clothes.

The result of our operations has been that 374 persons have been emigrated, consisting of 109 men, 119 women, and 146 children under 12—

Of these 164 have gone to Canada,
200 to the United States,
10 to Queensland and New Zealand.

The total cost to the Committee has been about £1,685, of which £1,610 has been paid by the Treasury, about £51 has been paid in to the Committee by emigrants, and £24 has been subscribed by the Committee; besides these sums a sum estimated at about £300 has been found by the emigrants themselves in fares and outfit.

The average expenditure on travelling and landing allowances has been about £4 per head.

The average cost of outfit supplied by Committee has been about 10s. per head.

The average amount contributed by the emigrants to clothing has been about 13s. per head.

Our parties sailed in the following order—

1st party,	79 persons for	Quebec by the "Grecian,"	on 20th April.
2nd "	48 "	Philadelphia by the "British Crown,"	on 2nd May.
3rd "	28 "	Boston by the "Nova Scotia,"	on 4th May.
4th "	54 "	New York by the "Furnessia,"	on 10th May.
5th "	40 "	Quebec by the "Nestorian,"	on 12th May.
6th "	46 "	New York by the "City of Rome,"	on 24th May.
7th "	38 "	Halifax by the "Caspian,"	on 15th August.
8th "	41 "	sundry destinations at several dates.

The parties were accompanied to Queenstown or met there by me or Colonel Crosbie of Ballyheigue Castle, provided with lodging at the O'Brien Home, seen safely on board and entrusted to the special care of the captains and stewards.

The parting from the several parties was the occasion for the warmest thanks and expressions of gratitude towards the Committee. And on the deck of the vessel the whole Kerry party, on one occasion, fell on their knees to pray for blessings on the head of Colonel Crosbie, who had accompanied them.

The Committee found the stowage arrangements generally satisfactory on the very fine ships of the Allan, the American and the Anchor Line. But they look eagerly for the time when a larger measure of space, light, air, and comfort on board will be provided by all the great lines for steerage passengers. The food in every case seemed excellent and abundant, and no complaints have reached us either as to this or on any other head. We consider it desirable that in every case emigrants should be found in "Ship Kits," the articles being provided for them on board (payment being previously made) and not put on board with them at Queenstown, as is usual, a system which we found to involve in some cases loss or injury of the articles, confusion and unnecessary delay.

Our emigrants for Queensland, have been grievously disappointed by the cessation of free emigration since their names were put down. For only one family (viz., that of the man who made the first move in this district towards emigration under the Arrears Act), have we succeeded in procuring passages. They started from Ardfer station for Waterford and Plymouth, to sail thence by the "Newshea" on the 18th July. The Waterford and Limerick Company also made a reduction of one-third off the fares to Waterford.

The accounts we have received from the emigrants, have been one and all extremely satisfactory. There has been no case of complaint or regret at having emigrated. One individual only, of the whole number, has since returned (in consequence of rheumatic fever) J. Hanlon, and he has given such a glowing account of the country where he was, that a fresh impulse has been thereby given to the dilatory, and a party of these forms our last batch. This party includes a girl who went as far as Queenstown on a former occasion with her parents, for Quebec, but would not go on board, and returned to her native village.

Extracts from some of the letters received by the Committee from the emigrants will be found appended.

In view of the regrettable action of the United States authorities, in returning to this country some of the State-aided emigrants, it is satisfactory that the Committee should be able to report that none of our poor people have thus suffered.

The Committee concludes by a unanimous and very earnest opinion that the system of State-aided emigration so ably conducted by His Excellency the Lord Lieutenant, should not be discontinued, at least for some years to come. They look with the utmost suspicion and distrust upon the opposition made in some directions to emigration which is at once the most ancient (Gen. i. 28), natural, and necessary means for making the most of the soil and of man's labour upon it.

If men possess the right to bring to the highest market the wares they sell, why should the Irish labourer and labouring tenant be refused the enjoyment of it? And if those who promote the easy cheap and rapid conveyance of their wares from the manufacturer and the merchant to the consumer, be adjudged benefactors of their race, how can the efforts of the State to do the same for the agricultural labourer, whose only merchandize is his muscle, be condemned. So long as wages and diet, as in this district, are so low as they are, the Committee cannot consider it reasonable to expect contentment, or to oppose emigration.

The Committee, therefore, trust that Government will take steps this session to provide for the continuation for some time longer of the system which has worked so well, with this important modification that future operations should be conducted entirely apart from the Boards of Guardians, and the Local Poor Law machinery. This change seems necessary for the following reasons—

(1.) The connexion with the workhouses puts upon the operation a wholly false appearance both to the emigrants themselves who shrink instinctively from such association, and to those amongst whom they go to reside, who cannot, or will not distinguish between Workhouse emigration and Pauper emigration.

(2.) The elected Poor Law Guardians on whom the working of the system mainly depends, cannot be expected to sympathize with or to promote a scheme which tends directly to raise wages.

We take the liberty of adding that in all our communications with the Local Government Board which have been continuous and not inconsiderable, we have received the greatest attention, and every request of ours has been answered with courtesy and promptness by Mr. Redington to whom we feel much indebted for the facility and success of our operations.

Signed on behalf of the Committee,

GEORGE F. TRENCH, Honorary Secretary.

POSTSCRIPT TO REPORT.

Ardfert Emigration Committee.

Since the above report was concluded, two families of those named as about to sail on the 15th August have changed their intention, and have not sailed.

These are Edward Reidy, four in family, and Patriek Dee, eleven in family.

The total number emigrated by this Committee will thus be reduced to 359, and expenditure will be correspondingly reduced. But the averages will not be materially altered.

GEORGE F. TRENCH, Honorary Secretary.

EXTRACTS FROM THE LETTERS OF EMIGRANTS—ARDFERT COMMITTEE.

"Waterford, Ontario, Canada, 1st July, 1883.

"DEAR JAMES,

"I received your kind and welcome letter on the 26th, which gave us the greatest pleasure. I write ye these few lines hoping to find ye in good health, as this leaves me at present, thanks be to God for his mercy to us all. There is no one starving, there is plenty employment at thirty shillings a week, all the neighbours are well, and this is a good country for any one to come in that has help. Michael Brick and Mrs. Sullivan met us at Jarvis Station, five miles from Simcoe, and he never looked so fat, and had a fine suit of clothes, and there is no one as comfortable as "Brick." He has a half acre set with potatoes, and I would not tell you all the apple trees and currant trees he has. Thomas Collins is lodging with Tom Sullivan, and he took a kind of a house. His daughters was in a Bank—that one of them was a child's maid, and his wife was slopping in a hotel—it is not picking "kippings" now, like she was at home. All the neighbours is all together, like they were at home. Tell Mike Driscoll that he would do well with his family, and you could have your hens and geese, as you would have at home, and your pigs. Tell Mike Flaherty that he would buy a hundred acres for two hundred dollars, reclaimed and with houses. James, if you were here, you would spare a pound a week. I have fifteen dollars for a stove. Tell John Griffin, at Moss, that if he was here he would get from eighteen to twenty dollars a month and his board.

"Signed,

JAMES FITZGERALD."

"Simcoe, 3rd June, 1883.

"DEAR MISS MARY RIORDAN,

"I hope you are all well and in good health, as this leaves us all at present. We arrived in Simcoe very well. Dear Mary, Mike met us. When I saw him he was as fat and as red as you would wish him to be. He had £8 before me. He was employed by a farmer—one Mr. Lee—one night I was at Tom's. He went the following morning and took a house in Coulbourne. I took a half an acre of ground under potatoes, lettuce, and rhubarb, onions. Mike's master's pair of horses and carriage took me up to Mr. Alman's, and bought the value of £5, and I have bought a half dozen of chairs, the same as there is below in the granary, and a small press and a table that cost ten dollars, and I have as nice a house as there is in Ardfer, and it is as rigged out as if I was five years in it. Mike and his father is working on the railway for £12 a month, and Dan Dineen and Murty Roek is along with them. Dear Mary, I am as happy as Mrs. Gould. I am working every day in the week, washing, at three shillings, and not to be out half a day. The children never got half an hour's sickness since I left home. God spare Mr. Trench.

"Signed, MARY BRICK."

"17th June, 1883.

"MY DEAR AUNT JUDE,

"I sit down to write you these few lines, hoping to find you in as good state of health as the departure of this letter leaves me in at present, thanks be to God for his mercies to us all. Let me know how is Peggy Garvey and family. Our man is very often thinking of Ellen Cunningham. And how is Peg Dunne and Mary, and how is Ned getting his health. Now let me know how is Patrick Walsh and family. Jerry Shea is at work. Martin is a deal better since he came here. Jerry Shea has a pound a week and Martin has eighteen shillings. Although my mother was crying a terrible lot the night she was coming, about the old house, she has a superior house to it now, thank God. If Patsy wished to come out here, this is the place for the work. We would love if Patsy was with us. They were telling all lies about the emigration. Any one that would come, Seaforth is the only place they would come to. We are paying three dollars and a half a month for the house we have, and there is four rooms and an upstairs in it. We are only beginning to get settled down as yet. We have as much new milk and sour milk here as ever we had at home. John Hanlon and Hugh Hanlon comes up to our house every evening; that is all that came with us. They were saying at home they would not get any money after landing, but my mother got six pounds after landing—all what Mr. Trench's honour said, it was true.

"Signed, M. SHEA."

"Irwins, United States,

"11 June, 1883.

"MY DEAR FRIEND, MRS. STEPHENS,

"Since the very first night we landed here we have got a house of our own, and a better house than we had in the old country. We have every article belonging to a house as comfortably furnished as any gentleman has. This is a beautiful country. There is plenty of everything there as you need not want for anything. You can go to the stores, and get twenty pounds' worth in your own word, and conveyed to your door with a waggon and a pair of horses. Every housekeeper in this country has a larderhouse of their own, and bakes as good a bread in it as you ever see in the town of Tralee, and this is a country, since the day we left our own home, we can sit down to as comfortable a dinner as any gentleman has in Ireland. I mean to let you know that we had a good voyage, twelve days in the "British Crown." This is the country where the poorest man kills three or four hogs in the year. There is butter and new milk and sour milk comes in to us every evening, without a penny cost, from all our friends.

"Signed, JAMES COSTELLO."

"St. Mary's, Ontario,
"May 30th.

"MICHAEL O'CONNELL

"I am sending you these few lines telling you how I am settled down, myself and Robert Sullivan, with a farmer, his name is Neagle. We sailed from Queenstown, 12th May, at four o'clock, on Sunday morning, and landed, the 27th, in Quebec. The Government agent was there before us, and we had our order from Mr. Mullins, and I got £3. We left that night, and was sent to Toronto, Province of Ontario, 550 miles free. We met the agent there, and he sent us to one Father Crennan, 120 miles. He got us into a hotel for two days, until he saw the farmer, free from all expense. The farmer came and took us into a four-wheel car to his house, and me and Robert is in one cottage. We have sixteen dollars a month with board for the two of us. The children and their mothers must board in their own house, and, when the harvest comes, we will get a rise. We were free from all expense on, every where we went.

"Signed,

JOHN RICE."

"Simcoe,
22nd June, 1883.

"MY DEAR FRIEND,

"This place is not like the old country, while the children were sick I had lots of nourishment and plenty to eat, and all the neighbours here fixed me up with plenty of house furniture, and planted a good garden for me. Dear Friend, the question you asked James about the country, it's a good place for any person that is inclined to work, and don't you believe that you must change your religion if you come here. Tom Sullivan is attending to his church and duties as well as any man in Ireland. James is working in a gravel pit and gets five shillings of Irish money every day.

"Signed,

JOHANNA ALTON."

"To Mr. Trench.

"Simcoe, Canada, 15th May, 1883.

"DEAR SIR,

"It was the opened hearth to me to receive my children at the station as strong and as healthy as the day they left home, and may God spare you to your family, my children was not without a father while they had you. I will never forget your kindness, and to the honourable ladies of the Abbey, may God spare ye all together; there was eight families came to Simcoe in the eight at night, had no place to go, or did not know where to go. I took them all into my house and then we had an Irish night in Canada. I done my best for them amongst the lot, and I did not see a more respectable one than Thomas Collins and his family; and his two daughters are in the most respectable house in this town, the head Bank at Simcoe, the two of them together. Jane has ten dollars a month and Bridget nine dollars, and the Mrs. says she will raise her wages after the first month, she likes them so well; their father has twenty dollars a month and his board, a hundred girls would be hired in an hour if they were there.

"Signed,

THOMAS SULLIVAN."

"Simcoe, 23rd July, 1883.

"MY DEAR FRIEND,

"We are all at work, and I have five shillings per day, and my two girls have ten dollars per month. We are very glad to come out here, it is a beautiful place. Thomas Sullivan is going to mass, he did not take the black gown yet. Michael Brick is doing well, and he met his wife at the Station. I am going to write to Mr. Trench a few lines. I am as easy as a king in my mind.

VI. The guardians shall use their discretion in requiring applicants to contribute a portion of the cost of their emigration, and the amount of such contribution shall be paid into the emigration account.

VII. The amount of grant sanctioned for each electoral division may be increased on the recommendation of the Emigration Committee by a sum not exceeding £3 in any case in which the emigrant is about to proceed to the Australasian or South African Colonies, or to any part of Canada west of the Province of Ontario, or to the parts of the United States west of the States of Ohio, Virginia, and West Virginia.

SIR,

I am directed by the Local Government Board for Ireland to forward herewith for the information of the Board of Guardians, acting as the Sanitary Authority, a memorandum of instructions as to applications to the Local Government Board for Provisional Orders under the Labourers (Ireland) Act, 1883.

ENCLOSURE.

LABOURERS (IRELAND) ACT, 1883.

PROVISIONAL ORDERS.

Instructions as to Applications to the Local Government Board for Ireland for Provisional Orders under this Act.

Upon the completion of an improvement scheme the Sanitary Authority shall publish advertisements and serve notices as required by Section 7.*

Upon compliance with the provisions of Section 7, with respect to the publication of advertisements, and the service of notices, the Sanitary Authority shall present a petition† to the Local Government Board, praying that a Provisional Order may be made confirming the scheme.

The petition may be presented at any time after the service of the last of the notices, but it should not be later than the first day of February next succeeding.

The petition must be accompanied by a copy of the scheme, and the maps, particulars, and estimate thereof, and it shall state the names of the owners or reputed owners, lessees or reputed lessees, who have dissented in respect of the taking their lands.

The petition should also be accompanied by a statutory declaration showing that the requirements of Sections 4 and 7, with respect to advertisements and

* Particular attention should be paid to the proper statements being included in the advertisements, viz.—the limits of the section to which the scheme relates—the estimated cost—the proposed area of charge—and the place where the scheme is deposited for inspection. The three newspaper advertisements should all be published in one and the same month, and the scheme should be deposited for inspection concurrently with the appearance of the first of such advertisements.

† "Petition." This should be written on folio foolscap paper, on one side only, be signed by the chairman of the sanitary authority and countersigned by their executive sanitary officer, and sealed with their seal.

ally remedied otherwise than by an improvement scheme for the erection of other dwellings in lieu of or in addition to the dwellings already existing in the section, the sanitary authority shall take such representation into their consideration at a meeting of which not less than fourteen days public notice has been given, and of which a special notice has been sent to each member of the sanitary authority not less than fourteen days before the day of meeting, and if satisfied of the truth thereof, and of the sufficiency of their resources, shall pass a resolution that an improvement scheme ought to be made in respect of such section, and after passing such resolution they shall forthwith proceed to make a scheme for the improvement of such section.

"The sanitary authority may from time to time postpone their decision as to passing a resolution, or may postpone the making of a scheme, to any subsequent meeting specified by them at the time of such postponement, and in such case not less than three days notice of such meeting shall be sent to each member of the sanitary authority.

"Two or more sections may be included in one improvement scheme.

"The Local Government Board may, if they think fit, exercise for the purposes of this Act the powers conferred upon them by the twelfth section of the Public Health (Ireland) Act, 1878, of forming two or more sanitary districts or contributory places into a united district, as if the purposes of this Act were among the purposes specified in the said section; and the provisions of section thirteen of the said Act as to the governing body of a united district, and of section fourteen as to the constitution of a joint board, shall apply in the case of such united district, and such united district shall be deemed to be a rural sanitary district for the purposes of this Act."

"5. A representation in pursuance of the last preceding section shall mean a representation signed by not less than twelve persons rated for the relief of the poor within the sanitary district, provided that if, after the area upon which the cost of the scheme is to be charged shall have been proposed by the sanitary authority, it shall appear that less than twelve of the persons who shall have signed the representation are resident within the said area, then the said representation, and all proceedings consequent thereon, shall cease to be of any force or validity, unless within one month after the making of the scheme an approval in writing of the said representation and proceedings shall be signed and forwarded to the sanitary authority by so many additional persons, rated as aforesaid, and resident within the said area, as, with those who shall have already signed the representation and are resident within the said area, shall make up the number of twelve. The representation, if made on the ground of insufficient house accommodation, shall set forth specific instances of such insufficiency, and if made on the ground of sanitary defects shall be accompanied by a certificate of a sanitary officer of the sanitary authority to which the representation is made in corroboration of the sanitary defects alleged. The representation shall also define the section to which the scheme is to apply, and shall contain a suggestion on the part of the signatories as to the locality or localities in their opinion most suitable for the erection of the proposed new dwellings."

"6. The improvement scheme of a sanitary authority shall be accompanied by maps, particulars, and estimates; it may exclude any part of the section in respect of which a representation is made, or may include any neighbouring lands within that district if the sanitary authority are of opinion that such exclusion is expedient or inclusion is necessary for making their scheme efficient for the purposes for which it is intended; it shall distinguish the lands proposed to be taken compulsorily. It shall further propose the erection of a sufficient number of labourers' cottages so as to provide for the accommodation of the labouring class in suitable dwellings, with the requisite approaches to such dwellings; it shall also provide for proper sanitary arrangements, and for a plot or garden not exceeding half a statute acre being allotted to each dwelling. It may also provide for such scheme or any part thereof being carried out and effected by the person entitled to the first estate of freehold in any property subject to the scheme or with the concurrence of such person, under the superintendence and control of the sanitary authority, and upon such terms and conditions to be embodied in the scheme as may be agreed upon between the sanitary authority and such person. The scheme shall also specify the area which the sanitary authority propose as the area upon which the cost to be incurred in carrying the scheme into execution shall be charged. The scheme shall avoid all interference with the demesne and amenity of residence of the owner of the lands proposed to be taken, or with any home farm, or lands immediately adjoining and customarily occupied with such residence; and in all cases lands shall be selected with due regard to the general situation and convenience of the owner's property, so as to diminish the value thereof as little as possible."

"7. Upon the completion of an improvement scheme the sanitary authority shall publish during three consecutive weeks in the month of September, or October, or November, in some two or more newspapers circulating within the jurisdiction of the sanitary authority, an advertisement stating the fact of a scheme having been made, the limits of the section to which the scheme relates, the estimated cost of carrying the scheme into effect, and the proposed area of charge, and naming a convenient place where a copy of the scheme may be seen at all reasonable hours: and during the month next following the month in which such advertisement is published serve a notice on every owner or reputed owner, lessee or reputed lessee, and occupier of any lands proposed to be taken compulsorily, so far as such persons can reasonably be ascertained, stating that such lands are proposed to be taken compulsorily for the purpose of an improvement scheme, and in the case of any owner or reputed owner, lessee or reputed lessee, requiring an answer stating whether the person so served dissents or not in respect of taking such lands, such notice to be served—

- "(a.) By delivery of the same personally to the person required to be served, or, if such person is absent abroad or cannot be found, to his agent, or if no agent can be found, then by leaving the same on the premises; or
- "(b.) By leaving the same at the usual or last known place of abode of such person as aforesaid; or
- "(c.) By forwarding the same by post in a prepaid letter addressed to the usual or last known place of abode of such person.

"One notice addressed to the occupier or occupiers without naming him or them, and left at any house, shall be deemed to be a notice served on the occupier or on all the occupiers of any such house.

"Upon compliance with the provisions contained in this section with respect to the publication of advertisements and the service of notices, the sanitary authority shall present a petition to the Local Government Board praying that an order may be made confirming such scheme. The petition shall be accompanied by a copy of the scheme, and shall state the names of the owners or reputed owners, lessees or reputed lessees, who have dissented in respect of the taking their lands, and shall be supported by such evidence as the Local Government Board may from time to time require.

"If, on consideration of the petition, and on proof of the publication of the proper advertisements, and the service of the proper notices, the Local Government Board think fit to proceed with the case, they shall direct a local inquiry to be held for the purpose of ascertaining the correctness of the representation made as to the section, and the deficiency of houses for agricultural labourers and their sanitary defects, and the sufficiency of the scheme, and any local objections to be made to such scheme, and as to the propriety of confirming such scheme.

"After receiving the report made upon such inquiry the Local Government Board may make a Provisional Order declaring the limits of the section to which the scheme relates, and authorizing such scheme to be carried into execution. The Provisional Order shall also specify the areas which are to be contributory places for the purposes of this Act, upon which the expenses incurred under this Act are to be charged. Such Provisional Order may be made either absolutely or with such conditions and alterations of the scheme as the Local Government Board may think fit, so that no addition be made to the lands proposed in the scheme to be taken compulsorily, and it shall be the duty of the sanitary authority to serve a copy of any Provisional Order so made in the manner and upon the persons in which and upon whom notices in respect of lands proposed to be taken compulsorily are required by this Act to be served except tenants for a month or less period than a month.

"A Provisional Order made in pursuance of this section shall not be of any validity until and unless it has been confirmed by Act of Parliament, and it shall be lawful for the Local Government Board as soon as conveniently may be to obtain such confirmation; and any Provisional Order made in pursuance of this Act, when confirmed by Parliament with such modifications as may seem fit to Parliament, shall be deemed to be a Public General Act of Parliament, and is in this Act referred to as the confirming Act.

"Any Act confirming any Provisional Order made in pursuance of this Act may be repealed, altered, or amended by any Provisional Order made by the Local Government Board and confirmed by Parliament.

"The Local Government Board may make such order as they think fit in favour of any persons whose lands were proposed by the scheme to be taken compulsorily for the allowance of the reasonable costs, charges, and expenses properly incurred by him in opposing such scheme.

"All costs, charges, and expenses incurred by the Local Government Board in relation to any Provisional Order under this Act shall, to such amount as the Local Government Board think proper to direct, and all costs, charges, and expenses of any person, to such amount as may be allowed by the Local Government Board in pursuance of the aforesaid power, shall be deemed to be an expense incurred by the sanitary authority under this Act, and shall be paid to the Local Government Board and to such person respectively, in such manner and at such times, and either in one sum or by instalments, as the Local Government Board may order, with power for the Local Government Board to direct interest to be paid, at such rate, not exceeding five pence in the hundred by the year, as the Local Government Board may determine, upon any sum for the time being due in respect of such costs, charges and expenses as aforesaid.

"Any order made by the Local Government Board in pursuance of this section may be made a rule of Her Majesty's High Court of Justice in Ireland, and be enforced accordingly."

"17. The expenses incurred by a sanitary authority in execution of this Act shall be special expenses within the meaning of Part Five of the Public Health (Ireland) Act, 1878.

"A sanitary authority shall have the same power of borrowing on the credit of the rates out of which special expenses are payable under this Act as they have under the Public Health (Ireland) Act, 1878, for sanitary purposes, and shall have the same power of mortgaging any property acquired by them under this Act as they have of mortgaging land to which section two hundred and thirty-nine of the Public Health (Ireland) Act, 1878, applies.

"The following sections of the Public Health (Ireland) Act, 1878, shall be incorporated with this Act; (that is to say),

"Section two hundred and thirty-eight, as to regulations concerning the exercise of borrowing powers; except sub-section (1) of that section:

"Section two hundred and forty, as to form of mortgages;

"Section two hundred and forty-one, as to register of mortgages;

"Section two hundred and forty-two, as to transfer of mortgages;

"Section two hundred and forty-three, as to the appointment of a receiver;

"Section two hundred and forty-seven, as to the borrowing powers of joint boards.

"Provided always that no rate or rates to be levied for the purposes of this Act shall in any one year exceed in the whole one shilling in the pound upon the rateable value of the property to be rated.

"18. The Treasury may authorize the Board of Works to advance from time to time, out of any moneys in their hands, to sanitary authorities, such sums as the Treasury think expedient for the purposes of this Act.

"Advances made by the Board of Works to a sanitary authority in pursuance of this section shall be repayable within such periods and at such rate of interest as are set forth in a Minute of the Treasury, made on the sixteenth day of August, one thousand eight hundred and seventy-nine, with reference to loans to which section two of the Public Works Loans Act, 1879, applies, or as the Treasury may from time to time fix in pursuance of that section, and, save as regards such periods and rate of interest, the enactments relating to loans made by the Board of Works under the Public Health (Ireland) Act, 1878, shall, so far as is consistent with this section, apply in like manner as if an advance under this section were a loan made in pursuance of those enactments.

"The following are the periods and rates of interest set forth in the Minute referred to in the 18th section:—

"If a loan is repayable within a period not exceeding 20 years, $3\frac{1}{2}$ per cent.
 "If a loan is repayable within a period not exceeding 30 years, $3\frac{3}{4}$ per cent.
 "If a loan is repayable within a period exceeding 30, but not exceeding 40 years, 4 per cent.; and if repayable within a period exceeding 40 years, $4\frac{1}{4}$ per cent.

Be it enacted by the Queen's most Excellent Majesty, by and with the advice and consent of the Lords Spiritual and Temporal, and Commons, in this present Parliament assembled, and by the authority of the same, as follows:

1. This Act may be cited as the Epidemic and other Diseases Prevention Act, 1883.

2. Whenever any part of England or of Ireland appears to be threatened with or affected by any formidable epidemic, endemic, or infectious disease, and the Local Government Board, England, under the provisions of the Public Health Act, England, 1875, or the Local Government Board, Ireland, under the provisions of the Public Health Act, Ireland, 1878, make regulations for all or any of the following purposes namely:

- (1.) For the speedy interment of the dead.
- (2.) For house to house visitation.
- (3.) For the provision of medical aid and hospital accommodation; and
- (4.) For the promotion of cleansing, ventilation, and disinfection, and for guarding against the spread of Disease.

The purposes named in the said regulations, shall be deemed to be purposes for which sanitary authorities may borrow money, and the local authorities in England, and the sanitary authorities in Ireland, charged with the carrying out of such regulations, may borrow and the Public Works Loan Commissioners in England and the Board of Public Works in Ireland may lend money to such authorities, as if such purposes were "works" for which loans may be granted under the Public Health Act, England, 1875, and the Public Health Act, Ireland, 1878.

Such loans may be made forthwith and without any preliminary public notice or inquiry, if it appear to the Local Government Board desirable in order to the prompt and effective execution of such regulations.
